

-MA103 TREKKING, DISCOVER THE ANDES IN TIERRA DEL FUEGO-

It is the ideal and easy way to enjoy the Fuegian Andes in an active way. At the summit you will be able to observe the Andes from the top, the lakes (Escondido, Fagnano, Yehuin) and the lagoons (Santa Laura and San Ricardo).

From the city of Ushuaia, a transfer will be made to the point assigned for the beginning of the journey. The trail will show us a pristine forest of Coihues, Lengas, Ñires, sectors modified by the activity of the beavers that were introduced from Canada.

Together with the guide you will discover and interpret the different environments: High deciduous beech forest, Evergreen beech forest, Low deciduous forest until you reach the high mountain environment (very different with very particular flowers).

At the top of the forest, you can enjoy a snack to regain strength to continue to the summit that will show and fascinate us the beauty of the Fuegian Andes. From there you will see the Escondido Lake, the majestic Fagnano Lake and further away the Yehuin. Not forgetting the San Ricardo and Santa Laura lagoons.

It is at this time that you will discover the high mountain flora with its rare and beautiful flora (spring-summer) and its adaptations to the environment.

One of the suggestions is to be attentive to the opportunities or possibilities to observe: Condors, Guanacos, White-bellied Seedsnipe, etc.

At the panoramic point will be the ideal place to have lunch enjoying the view of the Fuegian Andes. On the way back we will observe the beaver constructions, majestic works of engineering.

Once in the bus we will return to the city of Ushuaia enjoying the valleys, mountains, and peat bogs.
